For university graduates with non-business undergraduate degrees
Discover the UBC Master of Management

A Business Education that Opens Up Possibilities

The UBC Master of Management (MM) curriculum provides theoretical and applied learning, with case studies, teamwork, and presentations being key components of the program. You will gain knowledge in a broad spectrum of business disciplines, including marketing, strategic management and operations.

You will couple your knowledge with personal and professional development opportunities to reach your full potential. Through one-on-one career coaching, the Hari B. Varshney Business Career Centre will help you explore your career interests, discover your talents and market your skills to potential employers. You will also learn networking strategies, how to compose a resume that stands out, and practice mock interviews.

And with the 3-month Community Business Project, you will get to apply your newly-acquired business skills by working on a live business project for a non-profit or charitable organization. You will add valuable consulting experience to your resume while making a difference in the community.

The UBC MM will equip you with the business knowledge and practical experience to help you achieve your career goals.

“It’s specifically geared towards students with no business background to gain the confidence and skills to be work-ready right after graduation.”

Why Study at UBC?

Studying the UBC Master of Management means you won’t just graduate with a world-ranked degree from a leading academic business school. You will also be at the nexus of learning cutting-edge business at one of the world’s most vibrant university campuses.

You will learn from academic and business leaders alike, and with our small cohort, will benefit from face-to-face time with your instructors. Our “flipped classroom” approach, where essential knowledge is delivered outside the classroom and class time becomes grounds for active engagement, will help bring the modern business world to life as you learn.

Vancouver: A City of Ideas

Consistently ranked as one of the most livable cities in North America and the world (The Economist, 2018), Vancouver offers unparalleled opportunities.

A Leading Entrepreneurial City

Vancouver is home to corporations and startups alike: Microsoft, SAP, Amazon and McKinsey & Company have opened research hubs and offices, thanks to our city’s support for innovation.

The growth of Vancouver’s tech sector has also gained recognition, making Vancouver a hub for startups. Companies born here include Lululemon, Arc’teryx, and Vision Critical, all of which have hired our graduates.

West Coast Lifestyle

Vancouver offers a temperate climate and unlimited options for outdoor adventure – from kayaking and sailing in English Bay to skiing and biking on the North Shore mountains. This cosmopolitan city is compact enough to make its recreational and cultural attractions easily accessible, and big enough to ensure there is always something new to discover.

Vancouver by the Numbers*

- 75,000 professionals work in Tech & Information & Communications Technology (ICT) in Vancouver
- Home to 3 of Canada’s 5 Tech Unicorns (startups valued at over $1 billion), namely Slack, Hootsuite and Avigilon
- 60,000 people employed in Vancouver’s finance sector
- Social enterprise sector employs 13,000 people and earns $500+ million annually

Coming from the for-profit world, the Community Business Project allowed me to get a deeper insight, understanding and real-world experience for the non-profit sector, ultimately leading me to my current role at Spinal Cord Injury BC.

New Revenue Stream – Spinal Cord Injury BC
Each year, Spinal Cord Injury BC (SCI BC) continually strives to raise the funds they need to run vital services for people with life changing injuries. MM students helped produce a feasibility study and marketing strategy to scale up a t-shirt business and offer a viable new stream of revenue.

Market Research to Optimize Spending – Geering Up at UBC
Established 23 years ago, Geering Up sets out to deliver fun hands-on activities to encourage youth across BC to consider careers in STEM. MM students helped produce a market research analysis report and feasibility study on new locations for Geering Up’s operational expansion in the Metro Vancouver region.

UBC MM, Class of 2018

Through the Community Business Project, you will have the opportunity to apply your new skills to solve a business problem for a non-profit organization or social enterprise. Since 2011, UBC Sauder has partnered with almost 100 Community Business Project clients, several of whom return repeatedly for support from MM students and even go on to hire graduates.

This required component of the program enables you to gain valuable consulting experience, working on projects such as:

- Business plans and feasibility studies
- Fundraising and development initiatives
- Recruitment and retention strategies
- Corporate partnership strategies
- Marketing and social media strategies

Built-in Consulting Experience

Highlights of the project are below.

Global Opportunities

At UBC Sauder, we’re serious about giving you a global perspective on business, which is why we provide opportunities for our candidates to gain a worldly experience.

Summer Study Abroad Opportunities (Optional)
Study business at one of our global partner schools, or consider a student-researched summer program. Past students have pursued summer studies at Harvard University, London School of Economics, Indian Institute of Management (Ahmedabad), Copenhagen Business School, and more. Fees may vary depending on the partner school.

Yale M2M Dual Degree
As part of UBC Sauder’s membership in the Global Network, UBC MM students have the exclusive opportunity to apply to pursue their MM and a Master of Management Studies in Global Business and Society from the Yale School of Management. We are one of only four schools in the Global Network that offer this opportunity. You will build diverse alumni networks from two of the world’s top business schools, and learn to be a leading thinker on global risks, trends, and resulting business implications.

Worldwide Recognition and Reach
Your education with UBC Sauder carries international recognition: UBC was ranked #1 in Canada for Business and Economics and #37 among universities globally, by the Times Higher Education World University Rankings 2019. In addition, we currently have more than 40,000 alumni in 80 countries, which means that you will always be a part of a strong, exclusive network, whichever corner of the globe you choose to go.

“My M2M experience allowed me to take classes that are relevant to a career path that I am passionate about and give me a more well-rounded perspective on how to make decisions that are beneficial to business and society.”

Our Admissions Process

The UBC Master of Management selection process is rigorous. We intentionally keep our cohort small – with an intake of 50 to 60 candidates every year – to help foster a more collegial and personal environment. Candidates are carefully selected against competitive requirements to ensure that, once in the program, they will learn from peers who have demonstrated vision, leadership and experience.

The Master of Management is designed for recent university graduates with non-business undergraduate degrees (including minors in Business Administration, Commerce or Management). You are only eligible for the MM Degree if you have less than 18 credits in commerce or business courses from your Bachelor’s degree.

Review our Admission Requirements & Apply Online

a. To be considered for the UBC Master of Management Degree, it is recommended that you review our admission requirements and ensure you understand the components of the application at sauder.ubc.ca/mm
b. Create an account on our website and get started on your application.

Submit Documentation

Applications will be reviewed once we have received copies of all required documents and references, and verified your test scores. Please note that if you submit unofficial documents at the time of application, official documents must be received by the Admissions office no later than May 31, 2020.

- Transcripts/degree certificates/translation
- Letters of reference (electronic reference)
- GMAT/GRE
- English Proficiency Exam (required for candidates whose degrees are from a university outside Canada or the U.S.A. in which English was not the official language of instruction)

Interview & Await Results

a. All candidates being considered for admission will be contacted by the Robert H. Lee Graduate School for an interview either in person or by video call.
b. If successful, you will receive a letter of admission from UBC Sauder’s Robert H. Lee Graduate School.
c. Accept your offer! Get ready to join the class, starting in the last week of August. All students are recommended to be in Vancouver earlier to settle in and adjust.
