BCom (University of British Columbia, Sauder School of Business), JD (University of British Columbia, Allard School of Law)

Elicia is a lawyer at a national law firm where she works closely with companies spanning from start-ups to major international companies. Her focus is on providing strategic legal advice to companies to position them for and to help them through critical junctures such as obtaining initial funding, negotiating strategic transactions, evaluating growth and exit opportunities and raising capital in private markets. She provides practical solutions that directly tie to business objectives, based in a deep understanding of the client's business and competitive landscape. Elicia is excited to bring her experience and background to teaching at Sauder for the Law and Business Communications division.
